We May Never Pass This Way Again

Life—so they say is but a game and they let it slip away Love—like the autumn sun should be dying but it's only just begun like the twilight in the road ahead they don't see just were we're goin' and all the secrets in the universe whisper in our ears and all the years will come and go and take us up—always up

we may never pass this way again

*Dreams—so they say are for the fools and they let them drift away Peace—like the silent dove should be flyin' but it's only just begun like Columbus in the olden days we must gather all our courage sail our ships out on the open sea cast away our fears and all the years will come and go
and take us up—always up*

we may never pass this way again

*So I wanna laugh while the laughin' is easy
I wanna cry if it makes it worthwhile
I may never pass this way again that's why I want it with you 'cause you make me feel like I'm more than a friend
like I'm the journey and you're the journey's end I may never pass this way that's why I want it with you baby*

we may never pass this way again

DALE V. BOWER

1974 ARROW DEDICATION

The 1974 Arrow has been dedicated to Dale V. Bower, familiar to most as an individual concerned with helping us out whenever he could. Dale has taken an active interest in the Class of 74 by participating much time and effort to make our projects successful. But more than that, he has opened up his friendship to all. Dale has shown that he cares, not only with words, but with enthusiastic participation.

In the photo on this page, Dale is shown accepting a plaque from the Arrow editor on Honors Day, April 23, 1974.

Dale, it was an honor to have known and worked with you!

Progress is not merely improving the past; it is moving forward toward the future.

Kahlil Gibran

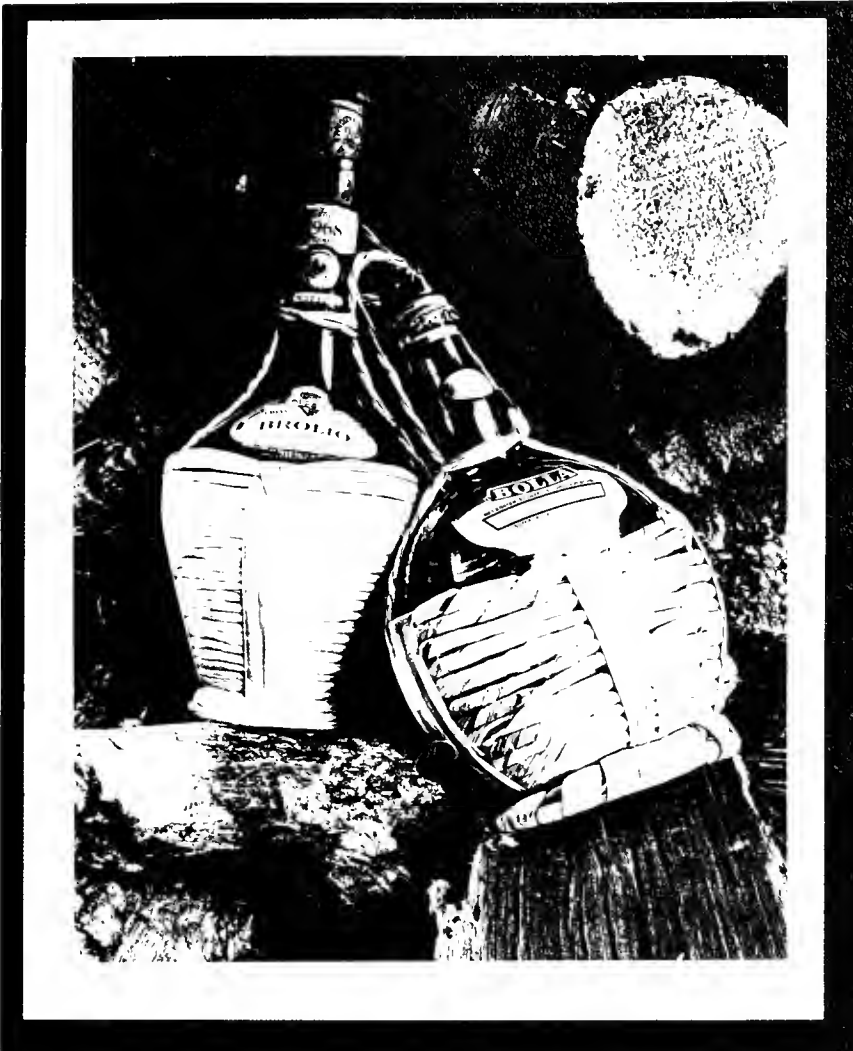

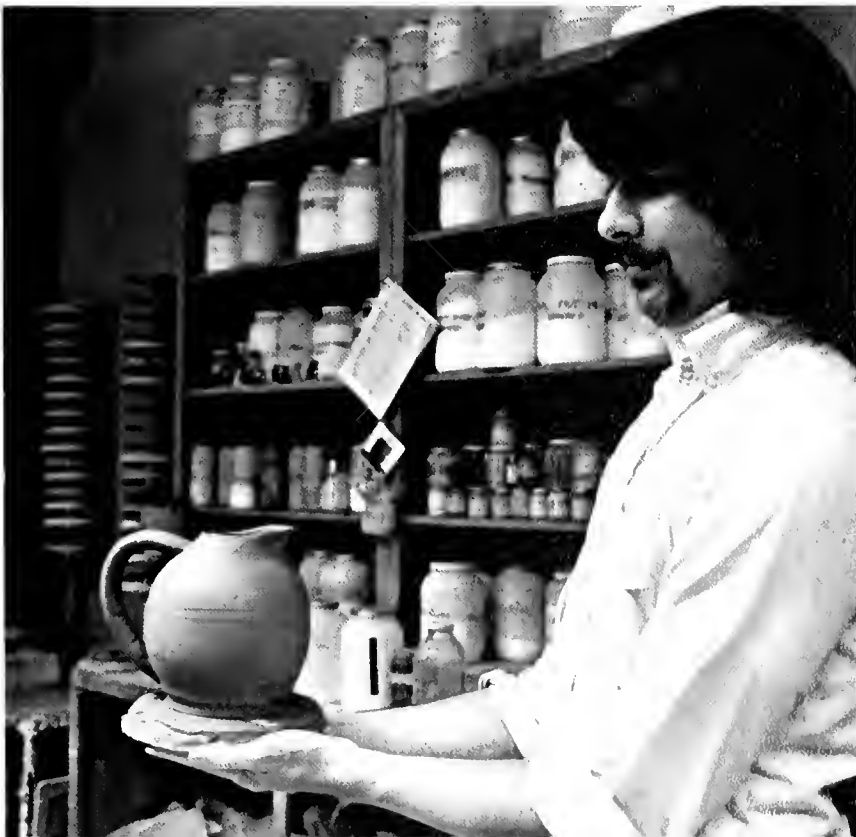

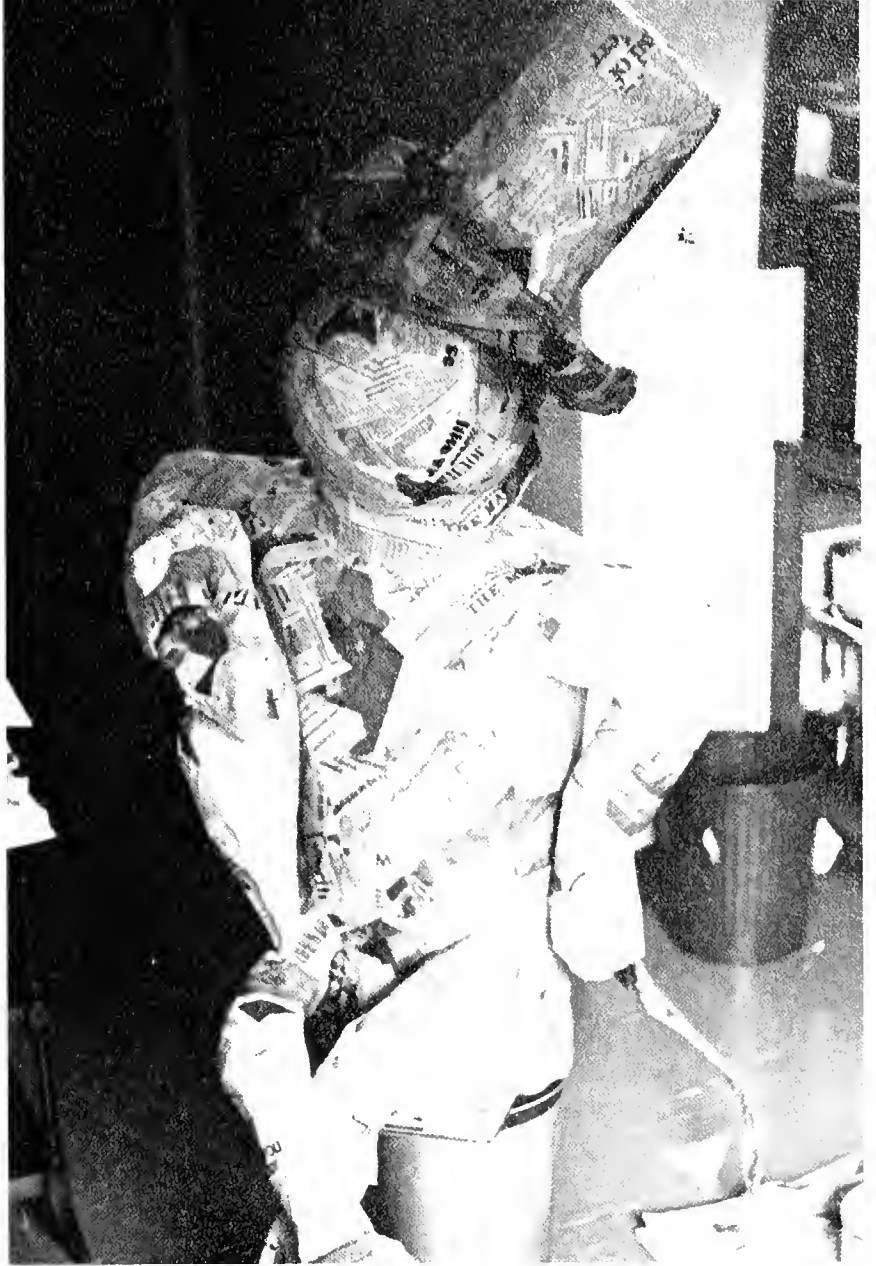

*The now of the present
Was in yesterday's moments.
Today it bears fruit
Which was yesterday sown.
The thing which one did in those moments now ended,
Still live in that present,
Reborn to its own.
Now it is tomorrow.
Now it is today.
Now it is still now
In the gone yesterday.
And each future now
With the gone yesterday,
Converge and are one
With the now of today.*

Rod McKuen

Tired of lying in the sunshine staying home to watch the rain

You are young and life is long and there is time to kill today

*And then one day you find ten years have got behind you
No one told you when to run, you missed the starting gun.*

Roger Waters

*There are places I'll remember all my life,
though some have changed,
some forever,
not for better,
some have gone and some remain.*

Lennon—McCartney

Sunrise doesn't last all morning
A cloudburst doesn't last all day Seems my love is up, and has left you with no warning
But it's not always going to be this grey All things must pass, all things must pass away . . .

*All things must pass None of life's strings can last
So—I must be on my way . . .
and face another day.*

George Harrison

*Every time we say hello to some new encounter we're on our way toward good-bye
Be aware then that tomorrow is only tomorrow—
There is nothing to fear except the coming of another day.*

Rod McKuen

Sometimes skies are cloudy Sometimes skies are blue

*Photographs and memories Memories that come at night
Take me to another time
Back to a happy day.*

Jim Croce

*And some are flying, some just gliding Released after years of being kept in hiding
They're climbing up the ladder rung
by rung.*

Terry Kirkman

*Like the pine trees lining the winding road,
Like the singing bird and the croaking toad,
I've got a name
And I carry it with me like my daddy did but I'm living the dream that he kept hid.*

*Like the north wind whistling down the sky,
Like a whippoorwill and the plea his cry,
I've got a song
And I carry it with me and I sing it loud and if it gets me nowhere I'll go there proud.*

*And I'm going to go there free, like the fool I am and I'll always be.
They can change their minds but they can't change me
I've got a dream*

*Oh I know I could share it if you want me to
If you are going my way, I'll go with you*

Moving me down the highway Rolling me down the highway Moving ahead so life won't pass me by.

Jim Croce

a dusty patch rest softly against a cellar clothestree across the hall a decaying sheep-brain commiserates with a half-closed microtome
Now the rug is threadbare and the chairs no longer plush “He’s late again” you whisper but the heavy walk produces only silence and the curled-up shoes lie dormant.

laboratory chairs scream their oft-carved messages “God, this class is dull”, “KDR !”,
“What time it it?”
Above their din you reverie imagines the quiet voice of a man, or was it a woman, speaking softly of social behavior Was he Her or was she?

a little boy’s blushing and dimpled face flashes through your mind while your ears respond to a discordant blend of his colleague’s unfinished Texas stories. where have they gone? why aren’t they here? What became of the laughter, the flirtation, the zeal?

you can never go back.
for those that people your images can never become real.
Maybe they never were.
Maybe we never let them be?

The internship program provides the students with an opportunity to enrich their classroom knowledge through professionally related practical experience. The experience allows the student to test his concepts in real situations. The internship experience is not a substitute for the classroom but an extension of it, adding a valuable dimension to formal education while meeting the demand for greater relevancy in higher education.

At present, the College has a modest but growing internship program, created as part of the academic curriculum in the spring of 1973. A junior or senior student applies through his major department to participate in the program. These students may serve as interns for one or two semesters, and may receive as many as sixteen academic credits.

During the spring 1974 term twenty-six students were involved as interns, and the College is currently engaged in efforts to expand the internship program into the areas of English, history and theatre.

To the Class of 1974:

You have just experienced several of the most important years in your lives, the period of your undergraduate education.

We of the faculty and administration trust that you have developed the capacity to make reflective decisions and to choose higher values rather than lower ones. Our total society will certainly be better if you behave in a thoughtful and a moral way.

I hope that this college has become an important part of your affections. Your ties with us should not end with graduation day. We should like to be a part of your continuing education. We invite your reflective contributions to the institution's welfare -- and we include tangible contributions. In this way, former students can help to make the college's services available for future generations of students.

Your alma mater's good wishes go with you throughout the years!

Cordially yours,

The Arena Theatre, under the direction of the Theatre Department, is a member of the American Theatre Association. Performances are given year-round by students majoring in Theatre. And this was the sixth year Lycoming entered a play in the American College Theatre Festival. This festival has offered colleges and universities across the country an opportunity to present their theatre work in a competitive festival. The Arena Theatre has been selected twice to present their plays at regional festivals—and the seniors should all remember 1971's "The Rimers of Eldritch."

The Theatre Department is also involved with the "Downstage" plays. These One-Act plays provide a chance for non-theatre majors to perform for their own students. The theatre at Lycoming was again another enjoyable season of fun and tremendous acting.

COFFEEHOUSE

Sweet Medicine

The old IFC Lounge in the basement of the fraternity building was once again a popular place on campus. Why? Because it is the home of the Coffeehouse Circuit, which has provided some of the best performers in musical entertainment throughout the country. Each month, groups of varying styles played to packed audiences. In some cases, the group had returned from previous performances, and many will undoubtedly return to enthusiastic listeners next year.

Jerry Bresse, who was instrumental in organizing and managing the Coffeehouse, graduated this year. Through his influence, it should continue on as successful as ever.

Certainly in the spotlight of the 1973 fall line-up of sports was the field hockey team, under the direction of Mrs. Virginia Kieser. The women, compiling a 5-2 season record, won four games before yielding to a defeat. Both losses were to a strong Juniata team.

Outstanding players on the offense included freshman Vicky George team high scorer; Mary Perry, and Carol Marple. The efforts of the entire forward line proved superior, as Lycoming dominated play in all of its games. Defensive action was highlighted by the endeavors of Ann Johnson, Janet Babcock, and goalie Nancy Scholz.

With only three graduating members; Mary Perry, Nancy Scholz, and Pat Stalgaitus, the team has great prospects for a strong '74 season.

Soccer

Although the 1973 soccer team suffered a dismal season on paper, its 1-8-1 record is not indicative of certain outstanding playing that took place among the booters. A relatively strong defense was shadowed by a lack of punch and scoring ability from the front line. However, Al Lockwood sparked many of the warriors offensive drives, and was the team's highest scorer for the second consecutive year.

The warriors were aided by the strong, consistent performances of Milton Chaves, Buddy Lindenberg, Jim Mathesius, Jeff Swenson, Andy Fehr, and Ken Donnellan.

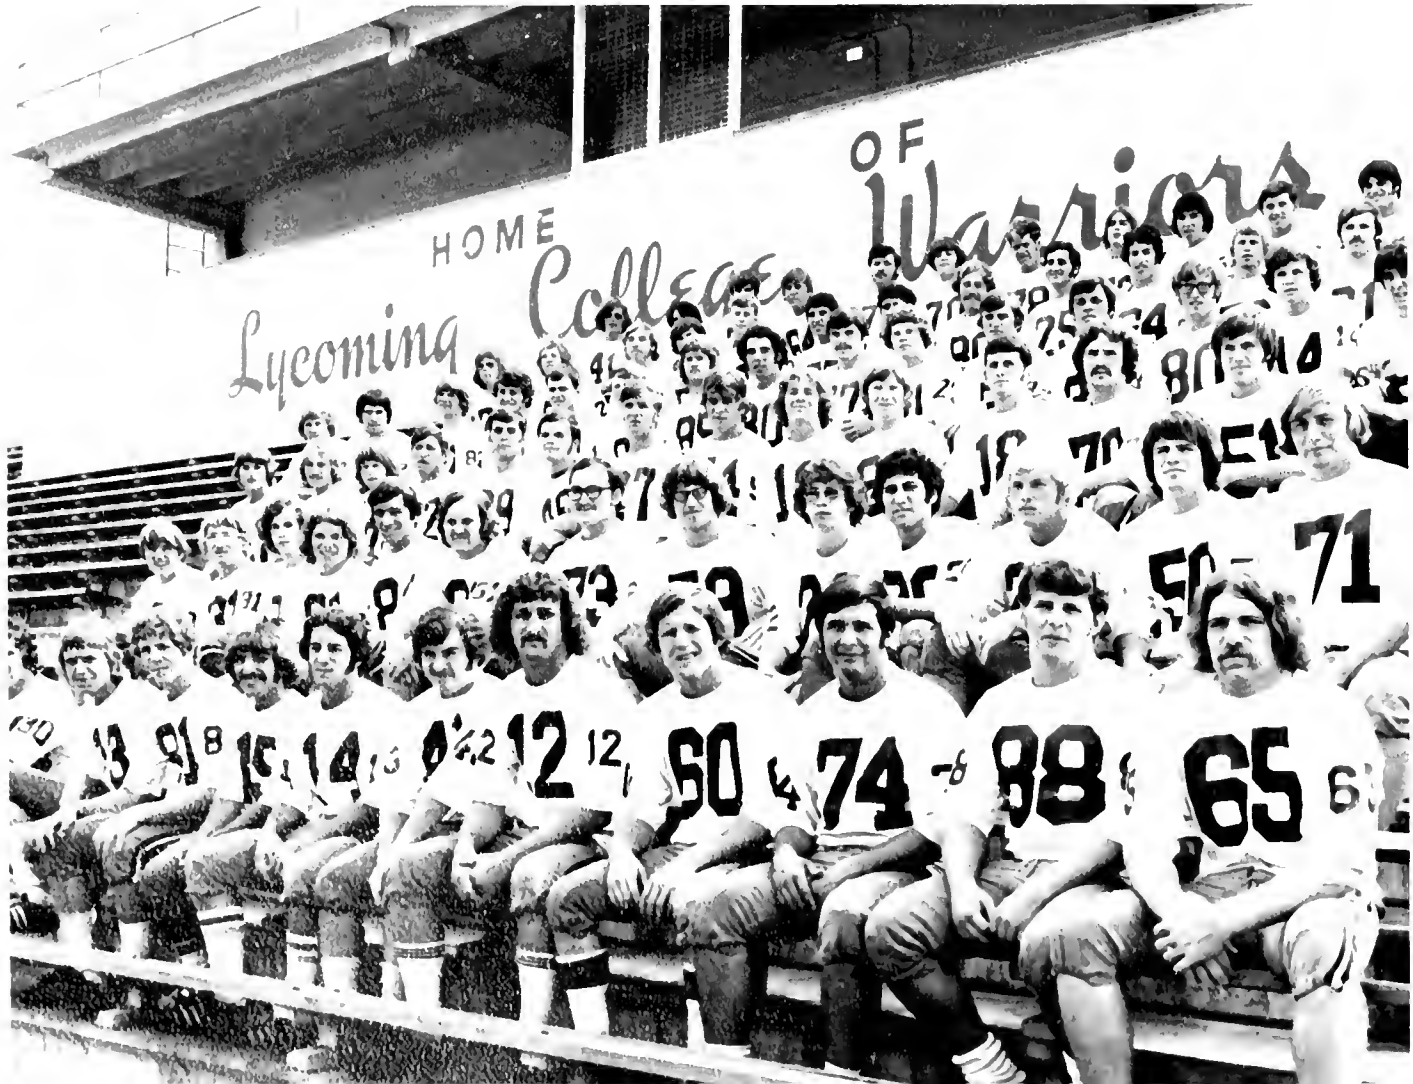

With a large number of seniors graduating, hopefully Coach Nelson Phillips will recharge for a successful '74 season.

An injury-riddled team told the story for this year's Lycoming College Blue and Gold Gridders of Coach Frank Girardi. The team compiled a 2-6 record for the 1973 season. However, there were some fine individual and team performances that highlighted the season.

The defensive unit will say good-bye to lineman Angelo Fanelli and Wayne Goodrow. But the man in the middle, Steve Wisner, will be most sadly missed. Steve is considered to have been one of the best standing linebackers in uniform.

Jim Rich, the sophomore slotback, was chosen again as the Northern Division MAC receiving Champion. The skillful performances of freshman quarterbacks Bill Grace and John Johnson put the Warriors first in passing. All there is left to say, is to wish the graduating seniors success, and Coach Girardi, an outstanding '74 rebound!

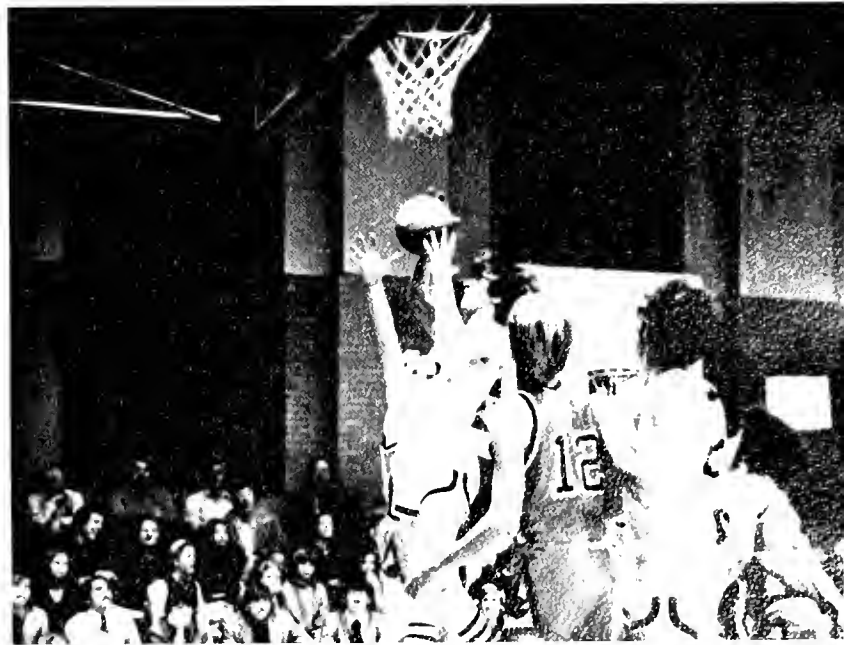

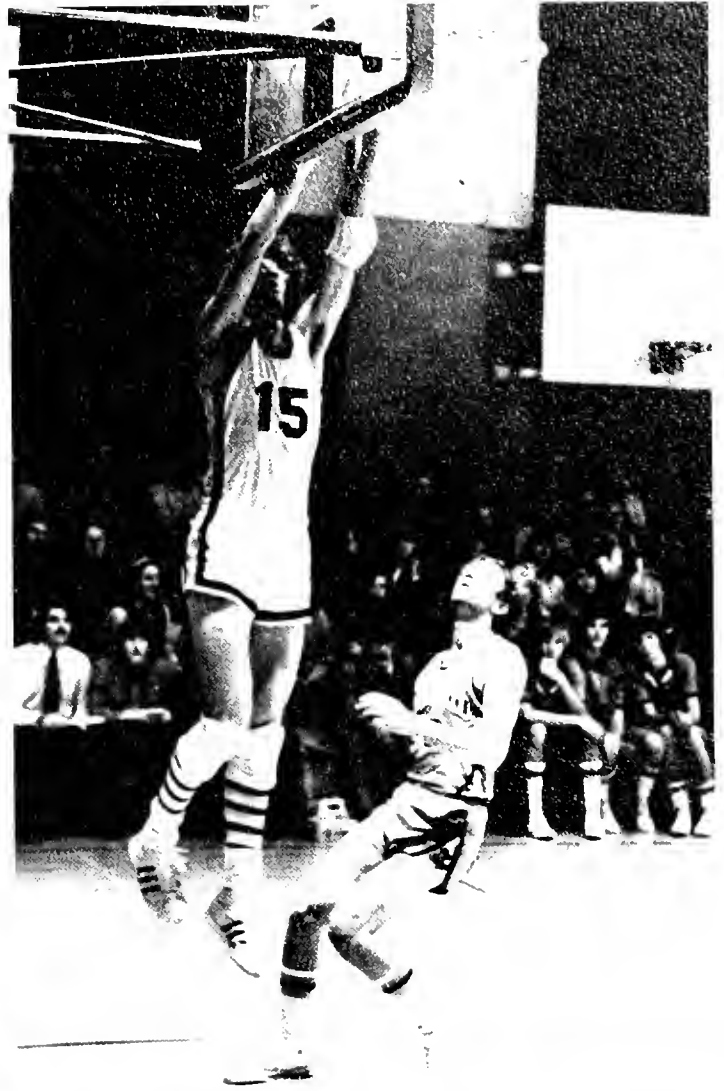

Basketball

Basketball

When Rich Henninger netted 25 points on January 16, 1974, vs. Alfred U., it gave him 1881 total points. This became an all-time record for a member of the Lycoming Squad, passing the previous high of 1880 set by Vince Leta.

On January 28, at a pre-game ceremony, Rich was presented with a citation noting his achievement.

The former South Williamsport High School star has been in the Warrior line-up ever since his freshman year. He was among the top 20 scorers among all players in the small college division his sophomore and senior years. Also in those two years, he was the top scorer in the Middle Atlantic Conference. In this year's poll, Rich holds a firm spot in the top 10 small college scoring ranks. He was also named to the National Association of Basketball Coaches District II All American Team.

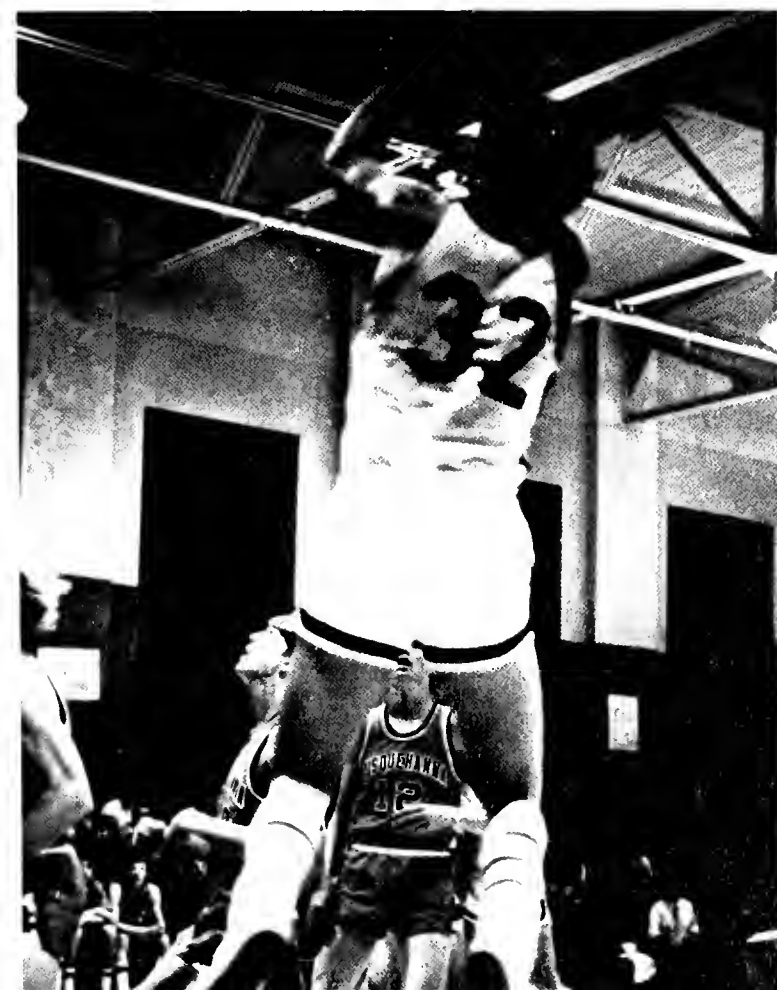

Henninger's other accomplishments include a game when he went 17 for 17 on the line. He also holds the mark for the most field goals in a season, 243. A consistent 50% shooter. Rich has scored 30 or more points in 22 games, including a personal high of 40 points in a contest this year versus Susquehanna.

Rich, who has been given recognition at 5 tournaments, has been named to the Middle Atlantic Conference All Star Team 3 times. The new record of 2,203 total points is one of which he and Lycoming can be very proud, as it is something which will stand for times to come.

MAC Playoffs

Elizabethtown	75	Lycø	79
Albright	83	Lycø	63

When the Warriors played on February 13th, 1974, the chant of "We're Number One!" became a reality for the fans as they watched Lycoming capture the regular season championship by defeating Albright 80-76.

Bringing a regular season record of 14-9 into the playoffs, the Warriors got by Elizabethtown in the first match 79-75, but were then downed by Albright 83-63 at Albright.

Rich Henninger, Steve Cogan, Jim Kelley, Tom Beamer, and Lou Hilf are the graduating seniors who will be greatly missed. A fine squad of returning players should help to fill the gaps and bring the Warriors another championship season.

Swimming

Jeffrey Rauff, replacing his father as men's varsity swim team coach, did not fare well this season. The team finished with a 1-10 record, but never gave up at any meet without a good fight.

Close meets included 52-40 losses to both East Stroudsburg and Kings, and a 56-47 defeat against Wilkes. The only victory, a 65-26 win, came in a meet with Western Maryland.

The team was sparked by consistent winners on the aquamen squad: Steve Marshall and Lee Murray in the freestyle, Mike Shissler in the breaststroke, Greg Bowers in the backstroke, and Todd Wynn in the butterfly. Todd and Steve, however, are graduating, so it will be up to Jeff and the returning swimmers to come back with a winning team in '74.

Under the mentorship of Donna Miller, physical education instructor, the women's varsity swimming team ended their season with a 3-5 record. Victories were scored over Mansfield twice and Bloomsburg.

With the many talented girls on the team, the record does not seem to indicate the true potential that was present. Top swimmers in each category were Lynn Martin, freestyle and breaststroke; Nancy Colby, freestyle and butterfly; Ellen Sharkey, backstroke; and Debbie Harrison, freestyle. Next year promises to be a successful one as these girls put it all together.

wrestling

Although inflicted with injuries to several key players, Budd Whitehill's wrestlers ended their season with an impressive 14-7-1 record. Whitehill's 150th victory came when the team swamped Messiah College 46-6.

Wayne Goodrow, at 190 lbs, compiled a 41-8 record for four years at Lycoming, despite injuries. He finished 3rd in the MAC Championship Tournament. Dan Hartranft compiled a respectable 10-5 record, and should be ready to improve upon that next year.

Seniors not returning include Wayne Goodrow, Angelo I anelli, and Steve Wiser; who compiled a 38-10-5 career record. While these grapplers will be missed, the squad has the potential to come back strong next year.

Tennis

The men's tennis team showed only an average turnout for the season, but were able to gather a record of 6 wins and 7 losses. Under the guidance of Nelson Phillips, the Lyco netters finished fourth in the Middle Atlantic Conference competition, with a 5-5 record. The team was basically a young one, with only two Seniors graduating.

The closest match of the season was against Juniata, but the netters were able to win it with a 5-4 victory. Greg Bussy and Dave Mittell won't be returning next year, but the team has players like Terry Murphy and Dave Spotts who will try to fill their shoes. The netters will have it tough, but they should not be underestimated.

Women's

Nancy Sass, Debbie Fox, Kathy Manchester, Janet Hill, Karen Lockwood, Sandi Earl, Mary Mazzanti, Vicki Satterthwait.

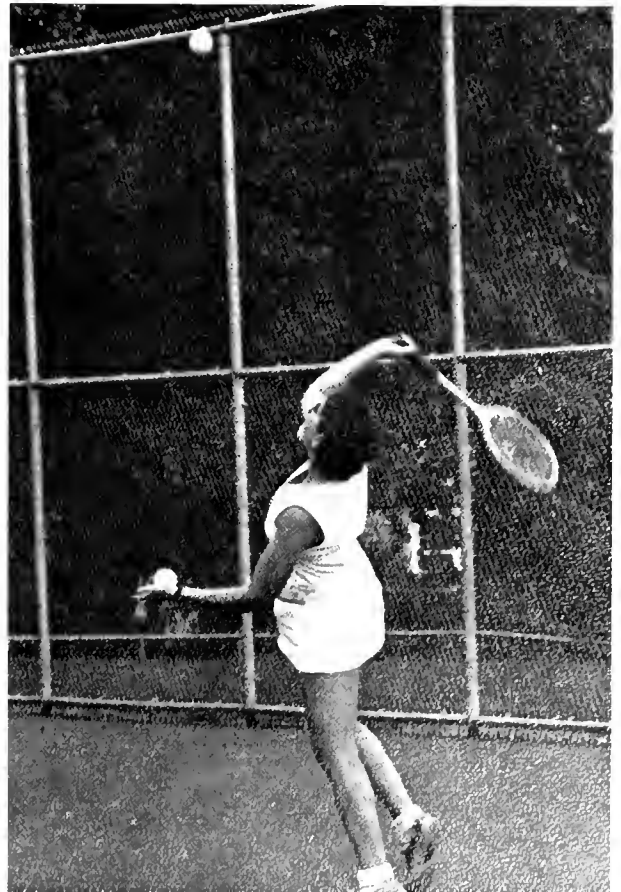

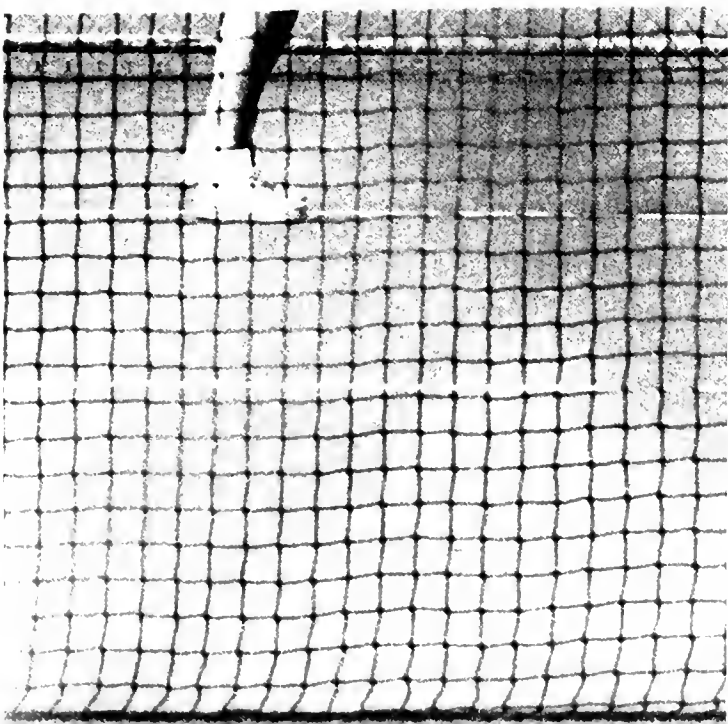

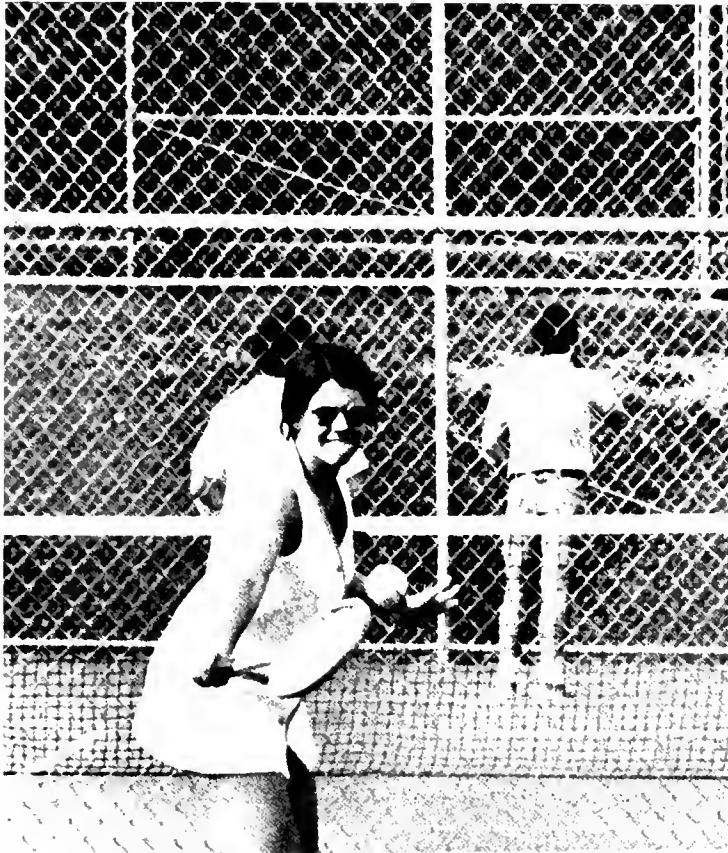

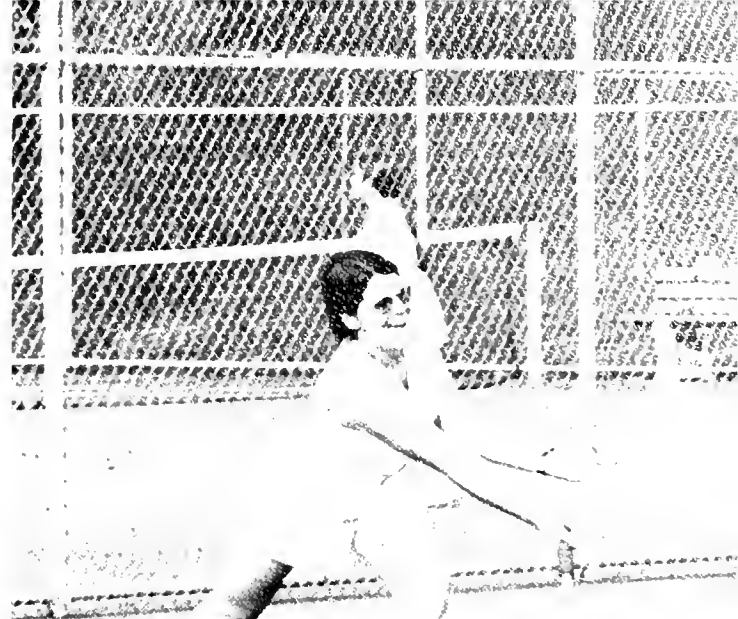

The women's Racketeer squad proved to be a power-house team, gathering an unblemished season record of 7 wins and 0 losses. The amazing women, under the fine coaching of Mrs. Sally Vargo, went rampaging through their season's schedule whipping each and every opponent off the courts. With a team as solid as this, it is extremely difficult to point out superstars, but in the spotlight of the team's success were Mary Louise Mazzanti, Vicki Satterthwait, and Nancy Sullivan, as they were all undefeated. Vicki, a senior, closed out her fine intercollegiate career with a 7-0 mark in 1973 after a 5-0 season in 1972. The team captain, Sandi Earl, was 11-1 in competition after her first defeat in career play. All in all, the red hot Racketeers should be duplicating the same type of performance in '74.

With Seth Keller unable to continue in his part-time coaching capacity, Charles "Chuck" Sample, a 1968 graduate, was able to lead the Warrior's track team to a 2-5 season record. Chuck coached remarkably well, considering the lack of good practicing weather and the burden of a very young team. Because of the team being made up of more than half Freshman, there were many positions thinly filled.

We will miss the good performances of Pete Kengeter, John Steinle, and Wayne Murphy, as they completed their inter-collegiate careers. However, with 90% of the team returning, next year looks very good.

The brothers of Alpha Sigma Phi enjoyed a successful pledging season which brought in new and fresh members. The Little Sisters have worked hard with the brothers on many projects, and joint affairs were held during the year. This year Alpha Sig won the fraternity basketball championship, a triumph prized by all the brothers. Through the continuation of activities such as these that the ties of the brotherhood are strengthened.

Founded: Boston, 1862
Established: Lycoming College
(formerly Lambda Chi Alpha) Flower: white iris

During the past year many of the goals of Tau Kappa chapters involving community relations, were met when the brothers hosted a charity basketball game and donated the proceeds to a local organization. A basketball clinic and a role brother counseling program for Williamsport young-men were also sponsored this year. The brothers are proud of their work and other good deeds like them, and will be continuing to provide good relations between the college and community in the years to come.

Alpha Phi Omega, a national service fraternity, has been in charge of the annual Lycoming County Bloodmobile once again this year, and had a very successful turnout of donors. The brothers also hosted two Christmas parties, along with a toy-clothing drive for children in need. They were on volunteer duty for several of the local fires. The brothers of Alpha Phi Omega are looking forward to their future endeavors with enthusiasm and with the true spirit of Brotherhood.

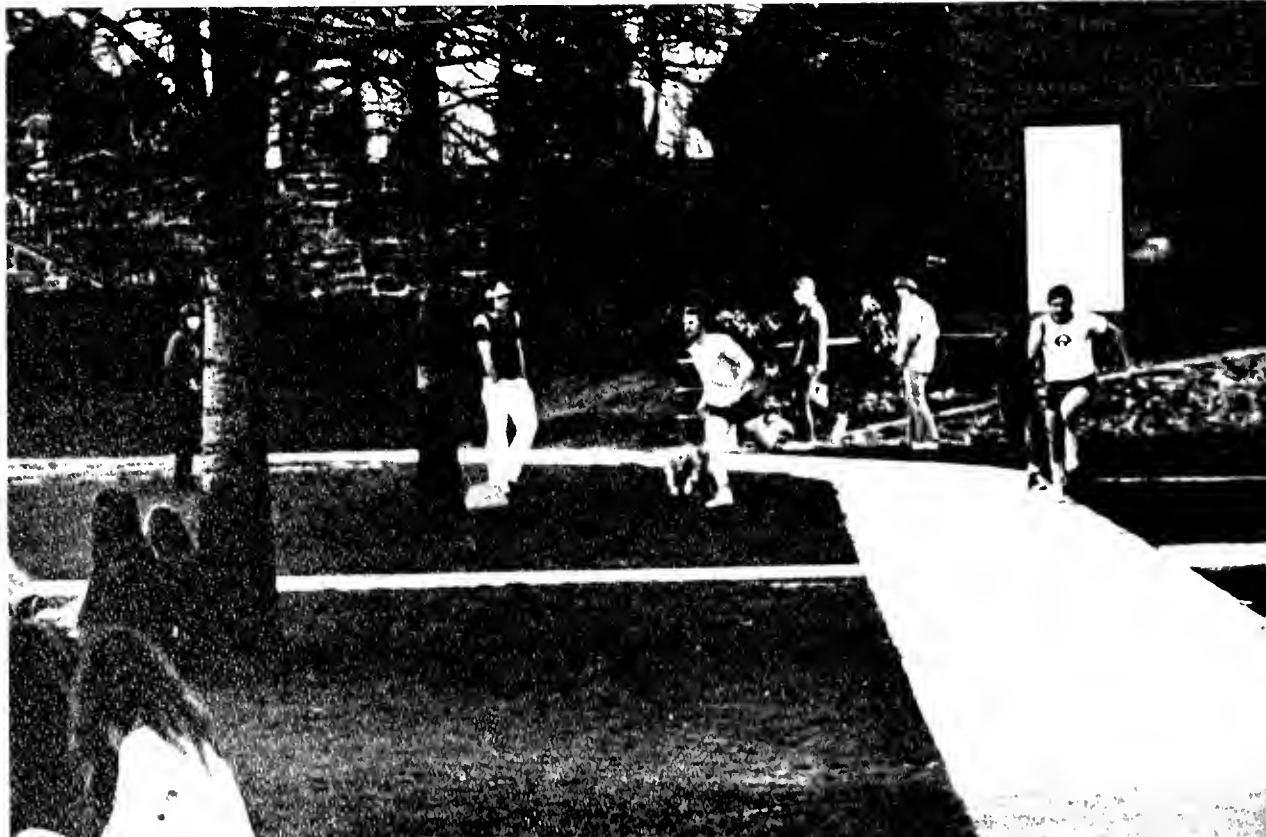

ADVISOR: David Franz

Greek Week is a yearly event which brings the fraternities together in a competitive spirit. The week long event represents the best in fraternal sportsmanship. The activities include keg tosses, chariot races, variety of relay races, the ladder climb, and tug-of-war.

CULTURAL

SURVIVAL

Thoughts on the Future

“The possibility of the good life for any man depends on the possibility of realizing it for all men. This is the function of society’s ability to turn the energies of the universe to human advantage”. R. Buckminster Fuller author, lecturer, inventor, designer, scientist, architect, engineer, philosopher

R. BUCKMINSTER FULLER, world citizen, opened the Colloquium on Cultural Survival to a capacity crowd of 1,000 attentive listeners, who heard Dr. Fuller chart man's evolution from the discovery of effectively drinking water with cupped hands, to the threshold of being able to provide everyone with all of life's necessities if he only makes the choice to do so.

For almost two hours, Dr. Fuller weaved the fabric of his concluding thesis, "I now know from all my actual studies and experiences that it is now highly feasible to take care of all humanity at a higher standard of living than anyone has ever experienced, and to do so by 1985, and to do it without anybody profiting at the expense of anyone else. The old working assumptions of limits are invalid. Rather, man is designed for success . . ."

Dr. Fuller provided an evening of thought far beyond the full comprehension of today's world, but not beyond today's youth.

It usually takes 25 years to put aside childish and petulant things, fifty years to acquire a little sense; then, just when we begin to understand what it's all about, we die. A few rare spirits, realizing that life has no meaning save the meaning we give it, no value save the value we put upon it, deciding that what matters is not life but the courage and laughter we bring to it. These are the real winners.

Hamlet

In Memory of
Dr. Maurice A. Mook

Jan. 22, 1904—Oct. 18, 1973

Maurice retired to Lycoming after 20 years of outstanding teaching at such distinguished universities as Pittsburg, Ohio Wesleyan, American, Brown, and Missouri, capped by another 20 years at Pennsylvania State University where he received the "Distinguished Teacher Award" in 1963.

Dr. Richard Hughes, assistant professor of Religion, wrote in June's issue of the LYCOMING, "I know he was loved by his students. His classes were demanding, and exciting. He was concerned about his students, their development and their ideas. He was devoted to his teaching, to the free exchange of views, to the critical testing of values, and to the principle of autonomy. Maurice has been a great teacher in our time, a gentle and wonderful spirit."

Dr. Mook will be remembered by many of his alumni and students as a wise and knowledgeable teacher who cared about them as individuals.

John T. Regener

April 27, 1973

John will be remembered! A Junior from Coatesville, Pa., he was majoring in Philosophy. His friends called him "Raider", and was at one-time a Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity brother. Let us not forget him, for he was a part of our class.

SENIOR PARTIES

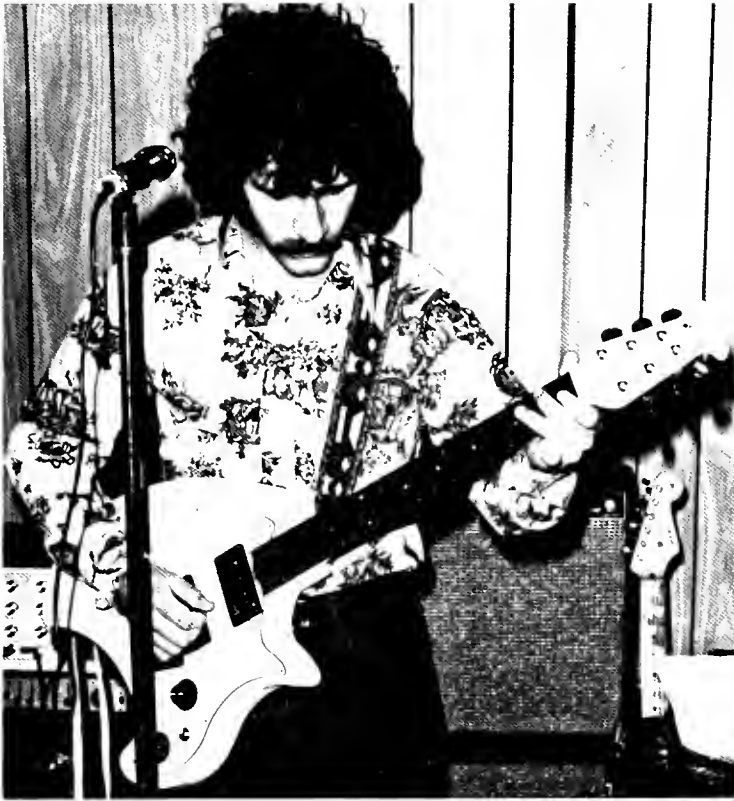

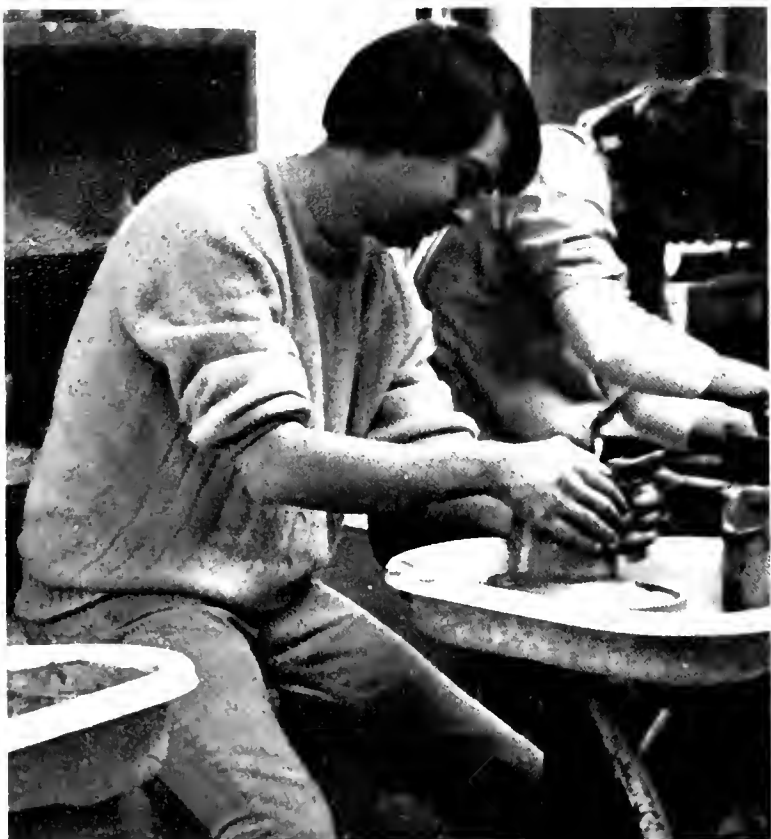

The Class of 1974 had two Senior Parties this year. The first one was held in December at the Sheraton. The other party, at a south Williamsport firehouse, took place the night before graduation. Good entertainment and plenty of food and drink highlighted the occasions. It was a chance for class members to renew old acquaintances, maybe for the last time, before graduation would send everyone their separate ways.

GRADUATION 1974

Lycoming's Largest Graduating Class

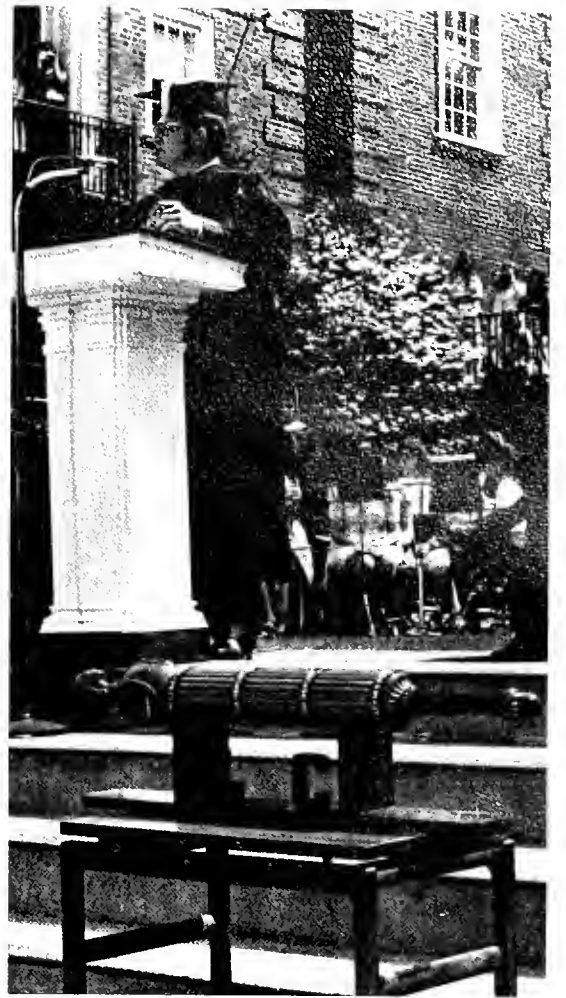

President Harold H. Hutson conferred the bachelor's degree on 382 seniors, as James R. Jose, Dean of the College, presented the diplomas. Fred A. Pennington, chairman of the board of trustees, and Leslie H. Ergott, a graduating senior, gave the invocation and benediction, respectfully.

The Summa Cum Laude academic honor was shared by four students. These students, with perfect 4.0 averages, were Helene L. Boinski, of Blossburg, Pa.; Barry P. Dawson, of Industry, Pa.; Christine D. Smith, of Forestville, N.Y.; and Andrew C. Stack, of Williamsport, Pa.

Baccalaureate was held in the First United Methodist Church at the intersection of Market and Packer

Acknowledgments

The 1974 Arrow staff hopes that this book has achieved our goal in reflecting the varied phases of college life within the past year. It was a time that was filled with happiness, hope, and frustration. Some of us are glad it's all over, and others are sad at its passing. But here's hoping that it will be fondly remembered.

I'd like to take some time to thank Paul Jobson of American Yearbook Company, who helped us solve innumerable crises, and to Stevens Studios which was our official formal portrait photographer.

Dave, I don't know how you did it, but you managed to keep us out of debt! All of the work you did is sincerely appreciated. I know you could have found better things to do with your weekends than typing copy!

Karen and Marie, a special thanks to you for your ideas and hard work in Layout and Copy. You both did a great job.

The photography staff deserves a lot of credit, too. There can't be much of a yearbook without pictures.

To Andrew Lady goes my sincerest appreciation. Your dedication and understanding were invaluable.

Many thanks goes to all the other staff members for a job well done. We couldn't have done it without you!

I want to wish the staff of the 1975 Arrow the very best of luck. It's your book now, make it the best yet!

Thank you.
Kathy Kelly
